

YES, YOU CAN READ,

BUT CAN YOU SEE?

SHARPEN YOUR

CLINICAL OBSERVATION

Great for all healthcare practitioners.

PARTICIPANT OBSERVATION

Great for public health and all field scientists

WHY

Research shows that training health practitioners in art skills improves visual awareness. You see more. You see better. Those practitioners make more and better observations in health contexts.

WHAT

Art in Health Workshops are specially designed arts-based experiences to engage health practitioners in the active practice of observation, communication and critical thinking skills with other students in health disciplines.

THE IMMERSIVE WORKSHOP SERIES

(Series of Four 3-hour Workshops, Spring)

Each series consists of four workshops—a hands on art studio-based session, a museum-based session with interactive discussions, a movement observation and practice session, and a sound, listening and music-based session. Meets in the USF Contemporary Art Museum, dance, visual arts and music studios. Certificate.

TWO-PART RETREAT

All Immersive Workshops combined for a two-Saturday Retreat including boxed lunches.

*Workshops are led by USF Arts Faculty and Arts Professionals.
Workshops are free, but registration is required. Refreshments are provided.*

SPRING 2017

SERIES A

4 WORKSHOPS
FRIDAYS
1-4PM
FEB 3, 10, 17, 24

SERIES B

2-PART RETREAT
SATURDAYS
9:30AM-4PM
APR 1 + 8

HERE'S A FUN CHANCE TO LEARN
VISUAL LITERACY.

Art in Health's
"ART OF ATTENDING"
Immersive Workshop Series

OPEN TO PROFESSIONAL +
GRADUATE STUDENTS ACROSS ALL USF HEALTH COLLEGES

Pick a date and email Dolores Coe at dcoe1@usf.edu

For more information, please visit:
CAM.USF.EDU | "Art in Health"

USF HEALTH

USF
UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTH FLORIDA
COLLEGE OF THE ARTS